

ROBIN FOLLMAN

Internationally acclaimed performing and recording artist, Robin Follman is described as a soprano with “the whole package.” With a devoted following, her repertoire includes opera, concert, and oratorio work in North America, Europe, and Asia. She continues to challenge herself at every turn of her career, making her one of the most admired and internationally praised American singers of the twenty-first century.

It is such a joy to have the opportunity to sing in Orange County again and at one of the most special treasures it holds: the Mission San Juan Capistrano. This hidden jewel inspires art in all forms, especially music. I am thrilled to be singing at the Mission's annual fundraising event this September in such a gorgeous venue and for the Mission's generous supporters and friends."