Mission San Juan Capistrano completed a year of great challenge and continued purpose as it served as a resource to the community and the world at large.

With more people facing uncertain financial futures, loss in real estate values, and the prospect or reality of unemployment, the opportunity for respite and renewal at the Mission became even more relevant and necessary these past twelve months.

Yet despite these difficult times, last year was a year of new programming, growth, innovation, and impact. The Foundation and its supporters, and members of the Mission Preservation Foundation Society found new ways to continue to forge ahead to ensure that the careful stewardship and oversight of this mission continued at same levels as previous years. The gardens continued to bloom, students continued to learn, and the Mission stood strong despite fluctuating attendance.

It is during this time of annual reporting that we can look back together and celebrate the significant accomplishments of the past year. With the leadership of the Mission Preservation Foundation, the hard working Mission staff, and the dedicated volunteers, history continued to be made.

Your direct support makes a long lasting impact to the sustainability, relevance, access, and preservation of this most important community resource for generations to come.

In 2008-2009 we celebrate that the Mission remained a treasured resource to the community and a place where life long memories were made on a daily basis.

Sincerely,
Mission Preservation Foundation

MOVING FORWARD IN ACHIEVEMENTS FOR 2008-2009

The Foundation celebrated the completion of the three year “Serra Chapel Conservation Project” including the Sacristy rehabilitation project, lighting upgrades, conservation of the historic silver processional pieces, and safeguarding the historic baptismal font.

The Foundation welcomed three new board members to the Mission Preservation Foundation including Peter Bastone, Lula Halfacre, and Madeline Swinden.

Celebrating its tenth anniversary, the leadership of the Gala Committee and the Mission Preservation Foundation hosted its best attended and most successful “Romance of the Mission” benefit gala.

Thanks to the support of the Orange County Community Foundation, the Mission Preservation Foundation resurrected the 100 year old Landmarks Club at Mission San Juan Capistrano to secure estate planning support for the future of the Mission.

Membership in the Mission Preservation Society continued to grow, and a new membership record was achieved.

Thanks to Ortega Gift Shop’s continued support, the Mission celebrated the grand opening of its California Missions Resource Studio for students featuring information about all 21 California missions.

The Mission expanded its audio tour programming to include “Saved by the Mission Bell: A Child’s Journey through California History” which has since been enjoyed by over 6,000 children.

The award winning “Voices of the Mission” audio tour was also expanded to include five languages, making it available in English, Spanish, French, German, and Vietnamese.
During tough economic times, the Mission provided free with admission Sunday performances of guitar, dance, and barbershop quartet music to the public in the gorgeous Mission setting.

Working closely with community leaders throughout Southern California, the Mission hosted an Italian Celebration of the Swallows Return.

The Mission developed the Ladies of Lincoln’s Era exhibit featuring the story of women during the Civil War period and public programming which included an American Girl Doll event and lecture.

In conjunction with Arts OC’s Imagination Celebration organizers, the Mission hosted Carp Diem showcasing the meaning, place, and importance of koi fish at Mission San Juan Capistrano.

Celebrating its 5th year the Mariachi Festival brought visitors from throughout Southern California to enjoy a music festival with the support of the Thomas J. and Erma Jean Tracy Family Foundation.

Music Under the Stars 2008
The concert series was, once again, a hit providing locals with a unique venue to dance to vintage music under the stars. Most concerts sold out and raised much needed funding to ensure the continued access and preservation of the Mission.

A first ever solemn remembrance of our Acjachemen community with the members of the local Juañeno Band of Mission Indians recalling those who lost their lives in the earthquake of 1812 was held.

Four art shows were held for Mission members and the public. Among exhibits was the first ever “all-female” art show with proceeds donated by artists to help preserve and maintain the Mission.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT PROGRAMMING
ACCOMPLISHMENTS SERVE AS RESOURCES

Inspired Learning
The Mission welcomed over 78,729 students who also participate in education programming provided by one of our education partners such as the Discovery Science Center, Jacque Nunez’s Journeys to the Past, and the Ocean Institute.

Scout Badge Program Initiated
The Education Department introduced a Mission San Juan Capistrano Scout Badge program for Scout troops.

“A” Report Card
Over 100 teacher surveys were received rating the Mission student field trip experience an overall “A” average rating.

Improving website applications
The Mission introduced a Teachers Page and Students Corner on the website, and developed free teacher planners, lesson guides, student stories, and learning section.

Curiosity Carts
“Touch the past exhibits” were located throughout the site featuring replica artifacts from early California for hands on learning by students.

Hosting Second Saturdays
Living History events manned by volunteers were hosted monthly and teachers were given free admission on these days.

Discount Programs for Teachers and Education Department
Introduced Free Mission Matters Programs and admission discounts for teachers booking and taking their field trips in the fall.

California Mission Resource Studio
With Ortega Gift Shop’s support we unveiled our first interactive studio for teachers, students, and parents to work on assignments and projects that involve resources on all 21 California Missions.
EDUCATION PROGRAMS AND PARTNERS
INSPIRING IMPORTANCE OF PRESERVATION

Student Educational Field Trips and Programs
The Mission served as a place of inspired learning about early California history, its indigenous people, and even science.

Education programming directly provided about 55,000 students and adults with a field trip tour. This past year’s programming featured Mission Matters coursework providing such experiences as adobe brick making, hide branding, and rope making. Our summer programs also included ceramics, drop-in programs for crafts, games and storytelling, and camping sleepovers as well.

The education offerings also featured the collaborative learning opportunities through partnerships with Journeys to the Past Native American storytelling, the Discovery Science Center’s Making the Grade science education, Dana Point’s Ocean Institute, and ZOOMARS Petting Zoo. Education programming aligns with the State course work and curriculum standards for Social Science and Science for 4th grade students.

Of the grand total visiting the Mission, another 21,000 also participated in a Mission education program or special class.

The Adopt-A-Class Program
Mission San Juan Capistrano also continued to find ways to ensure that access for student field trips to low income students remained available through its Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program. In 2008-2009 education programs were enjoyed by the under served of Southern California through the support of private donors. This donor supported field trip program received $10,109 to provide 913 students with free admissions, docent guided tours, Passport Explorers, transportation, and participation in an education program class during the 2008-2009 school year. It was a year when children especially needed this kind of support.

The Mission San Juan Capistrano organization is comprised of 36 hard working and dedicated full time staff. Specialists in the field of conservation, architectural preservation, graphics, information technology, and public relations are also retained as needed. In total, about $1.5 million in salary costs is needed to keep the Mission open, accessible, vibrant, and safe, 363 days a year.

Working at the Mission is a privilege and an honor. Employees recognize the unique stewardship responsibility they have in executing their daily responsibilities. A careful balance between creating new programs while reducing impacts is sought as the senior management team identifies and carries out priorities and objectives from year to year.

Employees at Mission San Juan Capistrano share a sense of purpose and willingness to do whatever it takes to keep the Mission looking beautiful, preserved, and relevant for future generations to come. They do so with joy and positive energy knowing that their work matters to all who visit.

In terms of measuring success, the Mission organization uses a metric that extends beyond just the important financial facts and figures. Success daily is measured in the positive comments received and the heartfelt thanks from those who visit. Employees see their jobs as caretaking a place that serves as a cultural, spiritual, and educational home to many.
OUR VOLUNTEERS
PEOPLE WITH PASSION

In 2008-2009, our 300 volunteers devoted 6,760 hours, averaging over 563 hours a month to keeping the Mission a vibrant place of inspiration, education and preservation.

-  This includes specialized contract services for Serra Chapel Conservation project and the South Wing Conservation project.
Preservation is a top priority for Mission San Juan Capistrano. As the art and science of historic preservation has developed, efforts must more carefully reflect respect for the past and in all ways be reversible, and be based on careful thinking of the past treatments applied to buildings and artifacts. Future generations of preservationists must have access to well maintained records so that they know how to carry on the future preservation projects. Preservation is defined as the stewardship of this site and its structures. Preservation also means sharing information with the public to generate a learning opportunity about how to steward the site, and prescribe treatments that allow for future generations to enjoy the Mission. Part of the preservation effort requires managing events so that they do not generate damage. Preservation also involves sharing information about the site, or interpreting, so that those who visit leave with a deeper appreciation for various significant points in California history.

Preservation of the Mission is funded entirely by private donations, membership, or grants. Income from the gate admissions do not fund the preservation of the site, but rather keep the Mission open for the public. This makes all of the accomplishments from the past year even more meaningful, when it is realized that gifts and donations directly translate into a measurable, immediate difference on the Mission grounds that will be appreciated for generations to come.
