It was an epic year for Mission San Juan Capistrano - The Jewel of the Missions.

In addition to all that we do as a landmark that is open 363 days a year, we remember this year as one in which a new page in the Mission’s history was opened.

With the start of construction on the Gate House Preservation Project this past December 2011, and the continued work to this date, we can celebrate that the Foundation’s efforts paid off tremendously, under the leadership of George O’Connell, to not only concurrently raise the $3.3 million necessary for the project but to simultaneously build it as we fundraised.  It was a year in which we all knew we were doing something special.

Despite the challenges of balancing operations with construction on-site, the talented team of the Mission staff, vendors, contractors, and volunteers continued to serve and care for tens of thousands of visitors from all over the world.  From hosting special signature events, to leading student field trips and tours, and managing large private events, the team was set on ensuring that the experience of the Mission did not get diminished even with the challenge of a setting in construction and change.

As a result, the Gate House Preservation Project is set to open in March 2013, with the new Mission-run Museum Store opening in July 2013.

There are a few special places in our lives that serve as anchors to our hearts and destinations of our memories.  Because of you, Mission San Juan Capistrano continues to be that for so many people.  Our surveys, reviews, and feedback all point to the fact that despite the construction, the Mission becomes meaningful in new and unimaginable ways to previous generations.

It’s not every day you get to be a part of history, to shape it, save it, and make new history.  But for all the supporters, members, donors and community partners listed in this Annual Report, much was accomplished.  By sharing this report, our Foundation thanks you for being a witness and steward to history.

Each of you receiving this Annual Report for 2011-2012 helped make it an epic year.

Looking forward,

George O’Connell  Mechelle Lawrence Adams
President  Executive Director

Reverend Monsignor Arthur A. Holquin  Rector/Pastor

The Mission Preservation Foundation
The Mission’s last fiscal year had many significant and simultaneous efforts moving the Gate House Preservation Project forward. As the Mission planned for a new entry experience, the team also continued to carry out daily operations, routine projects, and cultural celebrations with its same zest for preserving the religious and cultural value of the Mission for the community.

Among the significant accomplishments for FY 2011-2012 are:

Gate House Preservation Project

Gate House Preservation Project Phase I was started and completed on schedule and budget. The first phase provided for a separate group entrance, a public plaza, bench, bike racks, and a new Oak tree to provide shade to future generations. At its completion last spring, it paved the way for the more challenging construction of the Museum store and gateway entrance.

Most significantly, the first phase provided a safer, more visually attractive corner view of the Mission, while successfully incorporating the original 1919 building into the streetscape by relocating a fortress like wall and using the building’s walls as the fencing to create a bigger gathering area. Additionally, through the efforts of May Painting Conservators, hidden murals were uncovered in the 1919 original gate house for all to enjoy.

The second phase of the Gate House Preservation Project also started in this past fiscal year. At the end of the 2011 school year the Mission team worked to install a temporary entrance building, and start the arduous process of construction at the entrance to the Mission.

Throughout the year, fundraising by the Foundation provided the much needed support to keep the momentum of the project going forward. In fact, even the City of San Juan Capistrano underwrote $32,000 in fees to support the Mission’s gate house project as a gesture of support and investment in the efforts being made to enhance the historic downtown setting. The highlight of the year’s funding efforts were the announcement that an anonymous donor had stepped forward with a pledge of $100,000 in matching funds for all new gifts given to that amount. The gift worked to generate nearly the entire amount needed to fund the $3.3 million project (less than $50,000 remains to be raised as a result).

At its 2013 completion, the entire Gate House Preservation Project will deliver a much improved pedestrian experience, preservation of the original gate house, and ultimately a new Mission-operated Museum Store which will provide necessary funding to support the Mission’s operations and access for generations to come.
Foundation Changes
Two new Board members were added to the roster of the Mission Preservation Foundation. Longtime Community Partner, The Ritz-Carlton, Laguna Niguel's General Manager, Bruce Brainerd, joined the Board in the Spring of 2012. Dedicated to preservation, the arrival of Mr. Brainerd was a natural fit and marked an expansion of the long term working relationship built on collaboration, support, and care for the community.

Additionally, later in the year, long time teacher, businessman, and NFL official, Don Dorkowski joined the roster of the Foundation’s esteemed leaders. Don and his wife Carol have been long time supporters of the Mission and were a natural fit for the efforts and goals to come. Don’s appointment fills a vacancy left by founding Board member, Mike Hagan.

Romance a Success in 2011-2012
In the fall of 2011, Mission Pastor, Monsignor Arthur Holquin was celebrated as the Romance of the Mission’s annual gala honoree for his commitment to preservation. During this elegant evening of unparalleled beauty and execution, George O’Connell, President for the Foundation presented Monsignor with a commemorative framed invitation and celebrated publicly the many accomplishments of the Mission since Monsignor’s arrival. This gala generated critically needed funds to support the start of Phase I of the Gate House Preservation Project.

Museum Efforts:
At the end of the fiscal year it was determined that Mission San Juan Capistrano would loan several of its artifacts and archaeological treasures to the Science of Archaeology, a blockbuster exhibit at the Taco Bell Discovery Science Center of Santa Ana. With their partnership in exhibit development with Lucasfilm, Penn Museum and National Geographic, Mission San Juan Capistrano became a willing participant in sharing its valuable treasures in an offsite exhibit. Development of this partnership led to the opening in 2012. That exhibit remains available for viewing through April 2013.

In late 2011, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Birtcher donated a historic portrait of St. John of Capistrano to the Mission. The unsigned oil on canvas was deemed to be dated to between the 18th and 19th centuries and was in need of conservation. Long time Mission friends, Jan and the Honorable Warren Siegel provided the generous underwriting to conserve the painting. With completion of its treatment, the art work has been returned to its original glory and installed in the Mission Treasures: Historical Collection Revealed exhibit.

Another important painting was conserved during this past year through the generosity of visiting Mission patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Beckman. The 18th century Mary Magdalene painting was in dire need of attention as it sat on display telling the story for the need of preservation at this landmark. Visiting from out of town, the Beckmans were inspired to step forward and provide the funding necessary to return Mary Magdalene to a state of beauty. Today, because of their generosity the painting enjoys a special place in the Mission Treasures exhibit.
The Mission debuted new expert blogs including information especially designed for students and teachers. Topics such as museum preservation, education and cliff swallows were all featured on these new blogs. The Mission’s social media presence on Facebook (1,067 friends), Twitter (1,267 followers) and YouTube (25,889 video views) continued to climb with many friending and fanning the Mission San Juan Capistrano as a way of expressing support and confidence in the landmark.

In addition, the Mission, in collaboration with the generous underwriting and talents of Lisa Renee Photography, developed instructional YouTube videos for teachers to use in planning their field trip visits to the Mission. This new tool has helped strengthen the experience for teachers and students alike.

Mission’s Signature Events
Signature events were carried out with meaning and community relevance. Everything from the annual Return of the Swallows Celebration, to the summer concerts and Mariachi Festival, and ending with Christmas at the Mission, served to inspire and motivate the broader public to care about saving this landmark.

Despite the challenges of the economy and need to focus on the Gate House Project, the Mission continued to deliver an outstanding array of cultural art and events for the public. Events were hosted with safety in mind, and no accidents or issues arose despite being open to thousands of people in all kinds of weather and working conditions. This year’s event line up generated the most funding and attendance in a decade, and was a year that delivered meaningful memories for all who attended.

For example, St. Joseph’s Day 2011 Return of the Swallows Festival was a great success, and featured new traditions, along with the return of Dr. Charles Brown for public lecture. The new programming included bell ringing throughout the day. This year’s celebration marked the initiation of new efforts to attract the swallows to the Mission, which garnered national interest and featured programming on NBC News with Brian Williams, a front-page article in the L.A. Times, and other national news outlets.

Education Programs Thrive
The Mission hosted more than 50,000 students in its education program during the school year to study early California history.

During this busy year a new program was started in partnership with the Orange County Philharmonic Society. The program provides musical education in its California Journeys program providing guided tours and lessons through music and dance featuring the early California pioneer Gold Rush days.
The Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program served more than 3,500 low income students whose schools had never before attended a field trip to the Mission.

The Mission sold 140 Adobe Brick House Kits as part of its Education Programming at the Mission.

More than 2,500 students participated in weekend panning for gold and adobe brick making activities, and summer programming generated over 1,200 students.

The majority of teachers continued to rate the Mission as an “A” or better as a destination for social studies learning on their field trip survey form.

Support:
Membership at the Mission generated $243,000 for preservation funding with 4,288 members in the Mission Preservation Society

The Mission debuted its 2012 Club, an annual giving group to provide funding for preservation, education and special projects at the Mission. The program was so successful that it was rolled over into the 2013 Club for the coming calendar year.

The Landmarks Club, the Mission’s planned giving program membership, reached 34 estates. The Landmarks Club of the 1900s had a historic role in raising funds for preservation of the Great Stone Church, which still stands today as a result of their efforts.

Year End Review
In the end, Mission San Juan Capistrano continued to remain open to the public at large, did not raise pricing for admission or attendance, and did not have to reduce its programming or efforts despite the challenges of economy, resources, and staffing.

We thank you for your continued support, investment and care in Mission San Juan Capistrano and know that it is not only home to the faithful, it is home to learned, the family, the historians, the curious, and the caring. The Mission continued to grow as a California landmark, and carefully managed its growth with an eye to the past because of individuals like you.

Thank you for being part of our current day history so that others may learn from the meaning of this place and it truly can be a gateway to history.

The Mission Preservation Foundation
Board of Directors are committed to raising funds for specialized and comprehensive preservation work to ensure Mission San Juan Capistrano remains the most historically significant site in Orange County.
Mission San Juan Capistrano as we know it today would not be here without the long history of support and preservation of the site. Preservation remains a top priority at the Mission today, and 2011-2012 marked the groundbreaking for the Gate House Preservation Project, a project that will work towards current and long term preservation goals.

Preservation is as much about buildings and historical artifacts as it is about sharing information about the site, or interpreting the site, so that those who visit leave with a deeper appreciation for significant points in California's history.

Preservation at the Mission, and the Gate House Preservation Project in particular, is funded entirely by private donations, membership, or grants. Income generated by admissions does not fund preservation, but keeps the Mission open.

Please remember Historic Mission San Juan Capistrano in your Planned Giving. Join the Landmarks Club. Membership is your gift to the future of the Mission. For more information, contact Development Director Barb Beier at (949) 234-1323

The Mission Preservation Foundation Board was focused solely on carrying out projects that guarantee the long term sustainability of this most historic landmark as a place of inspiration, education, and preservation.

It is our goal that the Mission remains available to the public for generations to come. Over the past eight years the Board has carried out the stabilization of the Great Stone Church, conservation of the Serra Chapel, the conservation of the South Wing, and raised funds for the building upgrades for the West Wing Museum. Collectively, millions have been raised toward putting the Mission on stronger footing as a living museum that welcomes all.

The Gate House Preservation Project began in the fall of 2011 with the rehabilitation of the historically significant 1919 Gate House and reconstruction of the perimeter wall along Camino Capistrano. The project includes the construction of a larger entry way and ticketing booth, the preservation and repurposing of the Sala building for museum space, and the construction of a Mission owned gift shop scheduled to open in summer 2013. This is a preservation project of enormous scope that will allow historic buildings to be better used as exhibition spaces and bring additional revenue to the Mission that will help preserve and maintain the Mission for posterity.

The Mission’s Preservation Foundation, leadership, and design team aim to provide the community with a project it can be proud of for generations to come.

In summary, The Gate House Preservation Project includes:

1) Relocating the existing, privately operated, gift shop use to the corner, making the historic Sala available for future museum space. The museum store will be operated by the Mission when it opens in July 2013.

2) Constructing a new ticket booth and welcome area for guests.

3) Relocating and constructing a new separate group entry.

4) Installing trees, benches, and landscaping to be enjoyed by the public.

5) Rehabilitating the historically significant 1919 original gate house in accordance with the Department of Interior’s Standards for the Care and Treatment of Historically Significant Buildings.
This historically significant project paves the way for vacating the privately operated museum store that has been run out of an 18th century original, Sala, building of the Mission.

That space, once emptied, and depending on availability of funding will undergo a conservation assessment and then be re-interpreted. It will return to museum and interpretive space and no longer serve as a commercial function.

We had many friends local, far and wide who supported and were involved with this project and to them we are grateful.

“The overall Gate House Preservation Project will, at its completion, elevate the architectural meaning and experience of the Mission’s entry for our visitors and for the community of San Juan Capistrano.”

Over 50,000 students experienced the learning opportunity offered by Mission San Juan Capistrano thanks to the enthusiastic dedication of the Education Staff at the Mission and partners such as Discovery Science Center, Ocean Institute, and Journeys to the Past.

During the 2011-2012 academic year, the Mission’s volunteer docents generously provided 27,000 fourth grade students with guided tours. The Gardening Angels also provided summer garden experiences as well as garden tours. Members from the Juaneño Band of Mission Indians provided basket weaving demonstrations for students to appreciate the traditions of their people.

Taking a field trip to the Mission is a wonderful educational opportunity for students learning about the California missions. Teachers and students alike leave Mission San Juan Capistrano reporting an overall “A” for the experience.

In 2012, William Habermehl, the Orange County Superintendent of Schools and proud supporter of the Mission’s educational programs, retired from his position. The Mission welcomed new Orange County Superintendent of Schools, Al Mijares.

Each student who visited the Mission receives an opportunity to develop their knowledge and respect for history, architecture, old buildings, and culture.

Mission staff, docents, and donors receive hundreds of letters from happy students and teachers; proof that the field trip experience engages students with history and motivates them to care about our shared past.

The table below provides a summary of Education Program Attendance Accomplishments in 2011-2012.

Mission San Juan Capistrano continued to provide field trips to Southern Californian fourth graders from under-served schools through the Adopt-A-Class Scholarship Program.

Thanks to the support of generous private donors, the field trip program generated $45,266.25 to provide 3,948 students with free admissions, docent guided tours, Passport Explorers, transportation, and an education program class during the 2011-2012 school year.

Dear Sponsors,

“Thank you for sponsoring the field trip. When I was in the field trip I remembered what I learned in my Social Studies. It was a wonderful experience. I’m grateful for the opportunity to go to Mission San Juan Capistrano. I will always remember going to Mission San Juan Capistrano.”

Sincerely, Francis

A California fourth grader
Everyone, from the young to the young at heart, enjoyed the cultural and historical experiences of the Mission in many different ways, from audio tours to hands-on crafting experiences, fun exhibits and more during the 2011-2012 fiscal year.

The 10-acre grounds of gardens, fountains, and historic buildings offered visiting families a chance to explore true California history. Upgraded exhibits and on-site activities allowed visitors a chance to participate in the learning experience, and several budget-friendly activities were available.

Visitors participated in both adobe brick making and panning for gold activities at a special bundle rate which is also offered on Mondays during holiday weekends.

During winter and summer holidays, additional craft days were offered to kids. Crafts included making their own lassos/jump ropes, miniature adobe houses, cornhusk dolls and action figures, mini coiled clay pots, and arrowhead necklaces.

EVENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS
Celebrating the Experience

Throughout the 2011-2012 calendar period the Mission welcomed the public onto its grounds to enjoy a number of unique and wholesome experiences through its signature events.

These celebrations included the world famous Return of the Swallows Celebration, the Battle of the Mariachis Festival, the Music Under the Stars summer concert series, the annual Romance of the Mission benefit gala, and Christmas at the Mission, giving visitors a chance to celebrate both the past and present, and have become much anticipated traditions here at Orange County’s only mission.

Even on days without signature events, visitors had a number of memorable ways to experience Mission San Juan Capistrano through its daily “Always at the Mission” activities.

Weekend visitors had a chance to really experience California history as they tried their hand at adobe brick making or panning for gold activities offered every Saturday and Sunday.

Visitors also enjoyed the sound of strolling mariachis every second and fourth Sunday while the Mission hosted Mariachis at the Mission.

In 2011-2012, more than 320,000 visitors experienced the Mission in one of these unique ways, and each left with a lifelong memory to cherish.

For more information on Signature Events at the Mission and “Always at the Mission” activities, please turn to pages 35-36 for a detailed listing. For a look at the five year Signature Event calendar, please turn to page 37.
Mission San Juan Capistrano offers a museum experience like no other. It is a museum as well as an archaeological site where new artifacts are still occasionally discovered.

Inside its walls are exhibit rooms and its grounds are an outdoor gallery. This unique setting creates the perfect combination for interactive learning and enlightenment into the history of the Mission, a place uniquely steeped in California history and founded in a faith tradition.

As part of its goals, the Mission organization is dedicated to sharing its art, artifacts and history with the world, and finding affordable and well-managed means of doing so.

During 2011-2012, the Mission continued its ongoing mission to tell the story of Mission San Juan Capistrano through quality exhibits and to protect the artifacts that reveal the site’s history. Private donations were used to further safeguard the museum spaces from wear and tear, address security concerns, and to develop new stories for visitors while also protecting the resources being used.

This year Mission staff were pleased to unveil an updated version of its Native American Interpretative Museum Room, which now sports a new look, artifacts specific to the Acjachemen tribe historically connected to the Mission, and an interactive music and learning station. The reconfiguration of this exhibit offers a more complete representation of the significant role that Native Americans have played in the Mission’s history.

The popular Mission Treasures: Historical Collection Revealed exhibit was also updated with new artifacts discovered during a water pipe repair late in 2011. These recent archaeological finds have replaced items in the exhibit that were in need of preservation. New treasures unveiled also included a painting of St. John of Capistrano.

Museum exhibits are an integral part of the Mission experience. In 2013, we can expect to see an expanded museum space as a result of the Gate House Preservation Project, which will allow the Mission to use the historic Sala for additional exhibition space.

With the help of continuing donor support, the Mission’s museum and exhibits will continue to be developed and managed with care in years to come.
More than 320,000 visitors were warmly welcomed in 2011-2012 to Mission San Juan Capistrano by a smiling staffer, or assisted by a caring volunteer, and guaranteed to have a quality visit and experience at the birthplace of Orange County from arrival to exit.

Mission leadership has always recognized the importance of employees who are willing to invest their time to ensure the Mission’s status as Orange County’s premier landmark, and have made it a part of its recruitment process to attract and retain such caring individuals. From Guest Services specialists, to site work and preservationists to event planners. They all have one thing in common: they all recognize their role as stewards at the most unique setting and historical site.

All the achievements of our dedicated Mission team, the continuing stewardship of the historic buildings, organization of the artifacts, improvements and upgrades to the museum exhibits, as well as preserving the religious significance of the site are accomplishments that are made more impressive considering the fact that Mission San Juan Capistrano is a smaller non-profit organization that must rely on donations and support to make upgrades or pursue special projects.

Supporting our Mission in 2011-2012, were 225 volunteers who devoted 7,338 hours to keeping the Mission a vibrant place of inspiration, education and preservation.

Among the Mission’s valued volunteer groups are the following:

- Artifacts Council
- Curiosity Cart Volunteers
- Docent Society
- Events and Office Support Volunteers
- Gala Committee
- Gardening Angels
- Living History
- Native American Basket Weavers
- Women’s Guild
- Youth Leadership
